Testa And Meheula: Loss Of Citizenship

TESTA CLAIMS HE HAS NOT LOST RIGHTS BY BEING CONVICTED OF A FELONY AND THAT HE WILL REGISTER AS A VOTER—THE RULES OF LAW AND PROCEDURE FOR RESTORATION.

Editor Testa declares that he is notification of offenses as felonies or misdemeanors or disqualified to hold or demeanors, and an offense is termed a felony by reason of being convicted of a felony just the same if the possible felony in the federal court, and that punishment warrants it whether the will be on hand when the time comes to register for voting. In last night's Independent he disposed of the statement that he had lost citizenship rights, settling the matter when the verdict of the jury is returned, without regard to what the court does in sentencing.

A petition to the President, for restoration of civil rights, is a quite common procedure in such cases but custom requires that these shall be an interval before such restoration is granted. The United States book of Instructions to Marshals, District Attorneys and others contains the following rule on this subject:

"It frequently occurs that in reporting upon applications for clemency, judges and attorneys recommend that pardon be granted just before term of applicants expire in order that the rights of citizenship may be restored to them. In this connection, attention is invited to the fact that under the rules the President will not consider such applications until after the applicant has been discharged from prison a considerable period and his good conduct is certified to by the people among whom he lives. The 'considerable period' mentioned in the rule is understood to be about nine months. In reporting upon applications for restoration of civil rights district attorneys should state whether or not in their opinion, the applicant has incurred any civil disabilities by reason of his conviction."

The loss of citizenship rights in the cases of Testa and Meheula would make them ineligible to hold any public office or to sit on a jury and deprives them of their votes. The Organic Act of Hawaii contains a special provision, aside from the general laws on the subject, that persons convicted of felonies shall lose citizenship rights.

According to many attorneys, however, as well as some recent decisions of the court here, the test in such a case is not what punishment is inflicted, but what may be inflicted under the law. This is the rule applied to class old.

DILKE OPPOSES THE ALIEN IMMIGRATION BILL

He Argues That the Demand For It Is Due To Anti-Jewish Agitation.

LONDON, April 25.—The alien immigration bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons today. Sir Charles Dilke and Charles Phillips Trevelyan, who led the Liberal opposition to the bill, argued that the demand for it was the outcome of anti-Semitic agitation.

Sir Charles Dilke, who moved an amendment proposing as an alternative necessity for the bill more stringent measures to suppress "sweating," dilated on the excellent qualities of the Hebrews, and went so far as to argue that Christian people ought to be anxious to offer the Jews an asylum as compensation for past persecution.

The Ministerial Members warmly repudiated the idea that anti-Semitism had anything to do with the question. Taken as a whole, the debate on the bill was conducted temperately.

Sir Charles Dilke's amendment was defeated by a majority of twenty-four.

CULLOM TALKS OF EXCLUSION

Debate in Senate on the Subject of Keeping Out Chinese and Assisted Immigrants.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The general deficiency appropriation bill occupied most of the Senate's time, but before it was taken up Senator Gallinger spoke at some length on the tariff policy of the Republican party. While the reading of the deficiency bill was in progress Cullom spoke on the Chinese exclusion bill. During the day the attention of the Senate was brought to the amendment of the House to the bill for the government of the canal zone, and some embarrassment was created by naming Gorman as Democratic conferee on behalf of the Senate in place of Morgan, who is the senior Democratic member of the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, with the result that both Senators declined to serve.

Senator Cullom discussed at some length the provision for the regulation of Chinese exclusion, explaining previous laws and the treaties bearing on the question. He expressed the opinion that the renunciation of the treaty of 1894 would have the effect of reviving the treaty of 1880, and said that the latter treaty modifies the treaty of 1868. Discussing the act of 1902, he said that the exception made in that law in favor of treaty obligations had reference to the treaty of 1894, which was the only treaty bearing on Chinese immigration then in force. He thought it desirable that there should be a specific re-enactment of former Chinese exclusion laws. He therefore would favor the retention of such portion of the House provision as would accomplish this result. Later Cullom formally offered an amendment to strike out the major portion of the Chinese exclusion provision.

Senator Lodge also offered an amendment excluding Chinese and other aliens whose emigration is encouraged by agreement with any transportation company.

Senator Lodge also offered an amendment excluding Chinese and other aliens whose emigration is encouraged by agreement with any transportation company.

The reading of the bill being completed the Senate adjourned.

HE WAS AN EXCEPTION

PORTLAND, Ore., April 18.—Every Portland employee of Edgar J. Bowen at the time of his death, which occurred at San Francisco March 27th last, was generously remembered in his will, which was filed today in the office of the County Clerk. The will provides that every man who had been in the employ of the testator for ten years was to be given 50 per cent of his annual salary. Those who had served nine years get 45 per cent of their annual salary, and so on down the line until the people who had worked but one year get 5 per cent of what they received for a year's work. The principal of the minor legacies is, however, a bequest of $5,000 for the Unitarian Society of San Francisco.

The above legacy was assigned by George H. Kentwell to Chin Man Hon, March 16th, 1900, as of record in the said Registry Office in Liber 346, page 64, for the purpose of carrying out a certain agreement dated March 16th, 1900, between Shung Luck Co. and Chin Man Hon.

Wm. Match consented to assignment.

RUSSIAN ARTIST'S WIDOW ILL.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 18.—Mme. Vereschagin, widow of the Russian painter who went down with the Petropavlovsk, is in such a condition of nervous prostration that the family do not dare inform her of the official confirmation of her husband's death. Even the children are not aware that the news is true. The last doubt in the minds of his relatives concerning the fate of the painter was dissipated by a dispatch received from a nephew of the widow, dated from Liao Yang, saying that his uncle left there to join the Petropavlovsk.
